

THS Library Services is a partner in the health care team, providing information services to support patient care, clinical decision-making, research and education. Services include literature searches, supplying articles/books on request, database training, consulting on research or quality projects and equipping staff with mobile and online access to evidence-based clinical information resources at the point-of-care. Clinical information resources are available through EPOCH, the organisation's Electronic Portal for Online Clinical Help. Go to EPOCH epoch.hcn.com.au/

Visit THS Library Services staff in the Royal Hobart Hospital's Clinical Library, Ground Floor, F Block between Monday-Wednesday 8.30am-5.00pm. Six THS computer workstations and a printer/scanner are available Monday-Friday during business hours (and during University semesters Saturday-Sunday 1.00pm-5.00pm). Each workstation provides access to work email, the intranet, EPOCH, THEO and DMR applications. Send queries to Library Services any time by emailing library@ths.tas.gov.au.

Find out more about Library Services www.dhhs.tas.gov.au/intranet/stho/library\_services

Find out more about mobile clinical apps www.dhhs.tas.gov.au/intranet/stho/library\_services/wingfield\_library/how\_to/mobile resources